About the Portal

The EO Portal is a wiki-based resource managed by EARSC. It comprises a number of different parts which are open to dedicated users from different Communities. By registering through this "sign-up" page you will be able to have access to the first two parts of the Portal only. The major parts are:

EO Wiki	All registered users	this is the core of the Portal providing information on many aspects of EO technology and the companies which are supplying services.
Research Corner	All registered users	This provides a means for exchange between companies or researchers interested to collaborate on a research project ie to find partners.
EARSC Wiki	Employees of EARSC members	This provides a resource and knowledge management tool for EARSC members.
OGEO Portal	Employees of O&G companies Employees of EARSC members	The OGEO portal which is the gateway to information and a community of users dealing with Earth Observation products and services in the Oil and Gas industry.
eo4all Portal	Employees of Development organisations Employees of EARSC members	The eo4all Portal provides an on-line environment for exchange between Development professionals and the Geo-information industry

Users only see those parts of the EO Portal for which they have permissions, if you qualify to join one of the other groups please contact the secretariat: Monica Miguel-Lago