

FAST INFORMATION

The OGEO Portal enables users to ask questions and share information.

Members from the Oil & Gas community can ask about state of the art applications using satellite EO data. They can ask who can help solve a problem that they may have or simply to understand better some technical issues relevant to their work.

Members from the EO services community can ask about procedures and process in the O&G industry and provide information. It helps develop a closer understanding and an exchange between the Communities.